1. One day faculty orientation program on 'Empowering teachers is the key to enhancing quality education' : 9th May 2017

'Empowering Teachers is the Key to Enhancing Education'. Orientation encourages the teacher's confidence and helps them to adapt to the teaching environment. It contributes to more effective and productive teaching practices. It also promotes communication between the new teachers and the experienced teachers. The resource person for the day was Mr.Rijo. The first session was related with outcome based education and its relative concepts by narrating Kolb's Experiential Learning styles and cycle.

Effective learning is seen when a person progresses through a cycle of four stages: of (1) having a concrete experience followed by (2) observation of and reflection on that experience which leads to (3) the formation of abstract concepts (analysis) and generalizations (conclusions) which are then (4) used to test hypothesis in future situations, resulting in new experiences.

The second session was an interactive session where teachers were engaged with various brain storming games and intellectual / memory games. The teaching faculties who participated in the event came up highly positive remarks about the session and were thankful towards the organizers for arranging such a wonderful event.

TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

2. An orientation programme for ministerial staff on 'Stress Management and Teamwork': 27th April 2017

Stress Management is an important part of daily living for everyone. We all need stress in order to survive. Teams need it to perform well, and in the right doses, it can be very healthy, or even enjoyable. However, when stress becomes excessive it can be very damaging and unhealthy. Workers suffering from health problems are more likely to display low morale. By taking into consideration the above mentioned facts, IQAC organized an orientation programme for ministerial staff to provide stress management tips and stress management exercises to help the workers de-stress and handle their daily challenges in a relaxed, healthy manner. The resource person of the session was Adv. Renish Ravi. The orientation programme laid a great impact on the behaviour of ministerial staff and there were a lot of interactive sessions including various participative games, role play, problem solving techniques etc. The training was very much helpful for the ministerial staff since it has opened window of various methods to reduce stress and also motivated them to work in a team and develop team spirit among them. The ice breaking session has laid a foundation for all the staff to come together and work for common goals.

8. One day Workshop on MOODLE for the teaching staff of the college -A faculty enrichment initiative of IQAC : 7th June 2016

It is necessary to keep pace with the changes in technology and e-learning is order of the day. Teachers are required to update themselves and should use modern technology to facilitate the learners. MOODLE is a free and open-source Learning Management System (LMS). It is a learning platform designed to provide educators, administrators and learners with a single robust, secure and integrated system to create personalised learning environments. MOODLE is the open source platform that let you build the perfect education solution for your needs. Al-Ameen College introduced the use of MOODLE platform and invited Mr.Jino John, Research Scholar, Department of Computer Applications, CUSAT, for providing the faculty of the college on 7.6.2016, a first-hand knowledge on using this latest trend in the field of higher education. Teachers participated enthusiastically and the session was a grand success. Around 70 Faculties participated in the programme.

9. One day motivation class for teaching faculty : 3rd June 2016

The strength of our nation depends on the high quality education system and in turn the strength of education system is dependent on the teachers that are not only qualified but are also motivated and inspired. Teachers are lifelong learners, which mean they are constantly trying to grow and flourish. A key way to fuel teacher motivation is to provide opportunities to collaborate. Improving the motivation and status of teachers generally improves teaching.

Research suggests that students learn more in classrooms with highly dedicated and motivated teachers. Raising the motivation and status of teachers as well as retaining high-quality teachers is therefore vital to improving education.

The IQAC of Al-Ameen College is fully aware of the above fact and so the academic year began with a motivation class on 3.6.2016 for teaching faculty. Dr. C V Varghese, a veteran in the field of higher education with over 30 years' experience and well known soft skills trainer was the resource person. At the end of the class, all the teachers agreed that the session was highly fruitful and was highly inspirational. Around 70 Faculties Participated in this Programme.
